

New 2023 Medicare Benefit: 100-day supply of medications now available

As of Jan. 1, 2023, UnitedHealthcare Medicare Advantage members throughout the United States* are eligible to receive 100-day supplies of their medications for the same copay as a 90-day supply as part of their insurance benefit.¹

Analysis across the diabetes, hypertension and statin therapeutic classes shows on average a 5.4% higher medication adherence rate for members utilizing 100-day home delivery vs. retail.²

By encouraging patients to sign up for 100-day home delivery, providers can improve overall Star ratings, drive better health outcomes and help lower total cost of care.

Important advantages for you and your patients:

- Drives greater medication adherence²
- Maximizes patients health plan benefits
- Saves patients money – same copay for 100-day supply as 90-day supply
- Improves access to medications⁴, resulting in a better patient experience⁵

Optum Rx pharmacists are available 24/7 for your patients. We work with Medicare patients to ensure they understand their prescription drug plan and maximize their benefits.
